THE DAIRY, LIVESTOCK AND POULTRY INDUSTRY IN KENYA: MARKET LANDSCAPE AND OPPORTUNITIES

- + The government of Kenya has launched the Kenya Dairy Industry Sustainability Roadmap 2023 – 2033, geared towards increasing dairy farmer's income by doubling their milk production per cow.
- + Kenya has an estimated dairy herd population of 5.1 million and over two million smallholder dairy farmers with an estimated annual production of 5.2 billion litres of milk valued at over Sh.230 billion
- + Data from the ministry indicate that Kenya produced 5.2 billion liters of milk in 2023 and targets to increase the figure to 10 billion liters by 2030. Jonathan Mueke; the Principal Secretary noted that the strategy promotes investments in dairy export processing zones to increase exports by 200 million liters annually.
- + Chickens were the largest species of livestock in Kenya in 2020. That year, there were around 59 million heads of chickens in the country. Goats followed, with approximately 32 million heads. Moreover, Kenya summed 24.8 million heads of sheep and some 22.8 million heads of cattle.
- + Kenya is actively seeking to scale up the dairy and poultry sectors by up-taking innovations and technological advancements in the sector.
- + Recently, various financial institutions such as The Kenya Livestock Farming Trust are advancing credit facilities to poultry and dairy farmers for the growth of the industry
- + Kenya has started accepting technological & methodical innovations in Dairy Farming & Poultry Farming.
- + Livestock sector & Poultry sector accounts for 12.7% of GDP of Africa.

THE FUTURE OF THE INDUSTRY

The future of the dairy, livestock and poultry industry is being shaped by technology, innovation and smarter production practices. As demand for quality animal protein and dairy products continues to grow, the industry is moving towards more efficient, sustainable and technology-driven operations.

Key-Trends shaping the Future:

Genetics & Breed Improvement – Advanced breeding technologies focused on healthier animals, higher productivity and improved genetic performance.

Animal Health & Nutrition – Advanced feed solutions, supplements, diagnostics and preventive healthcare supporting better animal performance.

Modern Poultry Technologies – Innovative housing, ventilation, biosecurity, feeding and processing solutions transforming poultry production.

Digital Farm Management – Connected platforms and analytics helping farmers make faster, more informed operational decisions.

Integrated Value Chains – Stronger connections between farmers, technology providers, processors, dealers, distributors and global markets.

The next generation of dairy, livestock and poultry will be smarter, more connected, productive and sustainable – creating new opportunities across the entire value chain.
